The story of a boy who won't stop reading and a school bell that keeps interrupting, from the best-selling author of Shark vs. Train.

Henry has always obeyed the rules. So when the bell rings, he follows directions and heads to the next activity at school. But one day, he finds the most awesome book, and when the bell rings, Henry does something drastic: he doesn't stop reading, setting off a hysterically disastrous chain reaction.

When he's not there to get his lunch, it splats onto the floor and creates a pileup. When he's not there to catch the balls in gym, they roll outside and cause a traffic jam. The adults are stumped—what do you do when a kid won't listen to the bell? Get a bigger, louder bell! This hilarious, high-energy picture book celebrates that perfect moment of settling into a great story and will be an instant favorite for teachers, libraries, booksellers, and anyone who champions reading.

Chris Barton is the author of the New York Times bestseller Shark vs. Train, which was a finalist for the 2011 Children's Choice Book Awards and named one of the best books of the year by Publishers Weekly, School Library Journal, Kirkus Reviews, and Parents. A young boy and his friend are about to have a roaring good time in this picture book about a big, BIG playdate that's ele-funt!

When a young boy, Ezra, invites his “little” friend, Finley, over for a playdate, Ezra's parents are in for a surprise. Finley isn't like other kids—because Finley is an elephant! The two have a lot of fun activities planned, like: piggyback rides, riding bikes, and trampoline-bouncing. But Ezra's parents find that playdate rules are necessary as things get out of control. No loud voices or trumpeting. No running in the house. No dancing in the tree-house.

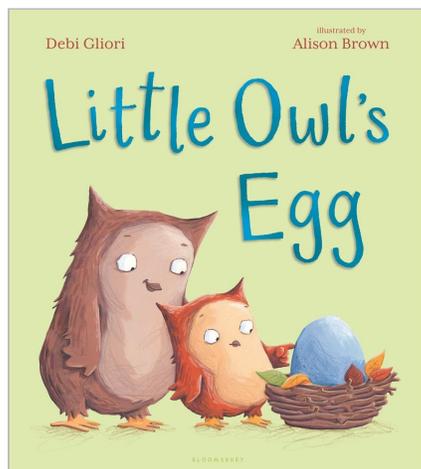

No problem though! Ezra and Finley have lots of ideas up their sleeves . . . and the fun is just beginning!

This fun and funny friendship story is perfect for young readers and their parents who are all too familiar with delightfully chaotic playdates.

Full of sparkle and friendship, this sweet chapter book series stars magical unicorn princesses and a girl invited into their world.

Welcome to an enchanted land ruled by unicorn princesses! Cressida Jenkins, a unicorn-obsessed girl who is sure that unicorns are real, is invited to visit, and readers will be thrilled to journey to the Rainbow Realm along with her! In each story, Cressida is called to help a unicorn princess and her sisters in a magical adventure.

Ernest the wizard-lizard casts a spell that accidentally alters Princess Prism's power—instead of being able to turn objects different colors, she makes them clear! They need to find the missing rainbow to reverse the spell, and Cressida is happy to help. Will she be able to restore Prism's powers and see the Realm in all its colors?

This must-have series has two new titles out simultaneously this season and features charming black and white illustrations throughout.

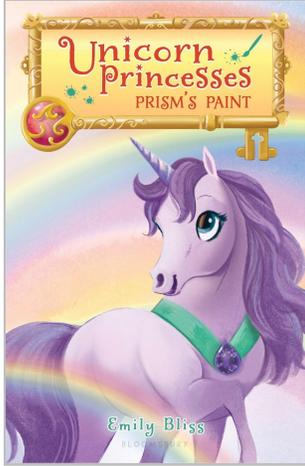

Emily Bliss lives just down the street from a forest. From her living room window, she can see a big oak tree with a magic keyhole. Like Cressida Jenkins, she knows that unicorns are real.

The Great Shelby Holmes may have finally met her match in this humorous sequel to Elizabeth Eulberg's fresh twist on Sherlock Holmes.

Being friends with a super sleuth isn't easy, especially when she's nine years old and four feet tall, and full of attitude. But for eleven-year-old aspiring writer John Watson, being friends with Shelby Holmes is just the adventure he's looking for. In the few weeks since moving to Harlem with his mom, Shelby has been training John in the art of observation—a skill that comes in handy on the first day of school. John's new teacher, Mr. Crosby, is acting suspiciously, and Shelby knows this is a mystery worth investigating. But as Shelby and John dig deeper, they discover that there may be someone unexpected involved—someone who may have Shelby beat.

From internationally bestselling author Elizabeth Eulberg comes a feel-good sequel for fans of Kate Messner and Chris Grabenstein.

Elizabeth Eulberg is not a detective (or so she claims). She is, however, the internationally bestselling author of The Lonely Hearts Club, Prom & Prejudice, Take a Bow, Revenge of the Girl with the Great Personality, Better Off Friends, and We Can Work it Out. Meet spunky sleuth Shelby and her sidekick Watson in what Kirkus calls “a smart, fresh take on [the] old favorite”, Sherlock Holmes.

Shelby Holmes is not your average sixth grader. She’s nine years old, barely four feet tall, and the best detective her Harlem neighborhood has ever seen—always using logic and a bit of pluck (which yes, some might call “bossiness”) to solve the toughest crimes.

When eleven-year-old John Watson moves downstairs, Shelby finds something that’s eluded her up till now: a friend. The easy-going John isn’t sure of what to make of Shelby, but he soon finds himself her most-trusted (read: only) partner in a dog-napping case that’ll take both their talents to crack. Sherlock Holmes gets a fun, sweet twist with two irresistible young heroes and black & white illustrations throughout in this middle grade debut from internationally bestselling YA author Elizabeth Eulberg.

Kate Messner pens another heart-warming tale of family and friendship about a tech-savvy boy searching for answers during tough times.

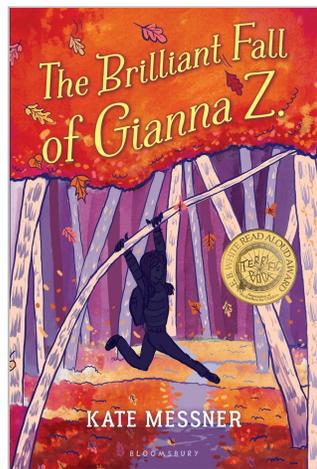

Kirby "Zig" Zigonski lives for the world of simple circuits, light bulbs, buzzers, and motors. Electronics are, after all, much more predictable than people. When his dad's latest visit is canceled with no explanation, and his mom seems to be hiding something, Zig turns to his best friend Gianna and a new gizmo—a garage sale GPS unit—for help. Convinced that his dad is leaving clues around town to explain his absence, Zig sets out to find him. Following one clue after another, logging mile after mile, Zig soon finds that people aren't always what they seem . . . and sometimes, there's more than one set of coordinates for home.

Brimming with warmth and humor, The Exact Location of Home is a must read for middle-grade fans of Lynda Mullaly Hunt and Wendy Mass.

This adored novel is getting an exciting new look, and readers will fall for Gianna Z.'s humor and heart all over again.

All Gianna Zales wants is to compete at the cross-country finals, but there's something standing in her way—a science project. She'll lose her spot unless she can collect twenty-five leaves, a task complicated by her teeth-losing grandmother, her hearse-driving father, and a best friend whose feelings for her are suddenly changing. Then Gianna's grandmother disappears, and suddenly some things seem more important than projects and races . . .

Kate Messner effortlessly transforms a heavy topic into a warm, engaging story that even reluctant readers won't be able to put down. Everyone will be rooting for Giana Z.—and maybe even for science projects—from the very first page of this funny and poignant novel about family, friendship, and being true to yourself.

In this companion novel to the New York Times bestselling Throne of Glass series, follow Chaol in his own new adventure.

Chaol Westfall has always defined himself by his unwavering loyalty, his strength, and his position as the Captain of the Guard. But all of that has changed since the glass castle shattered, since his men were slaughtered, since the King of Adarlan spared him from a killing blow, but left his body broken.

His only shot at recovery lies with the legendary healers of the Torre Cesme in Antica—the stronghold of the southern continent’s mighty empire. And with war looming over Dorian and Aelin back home, their survival might lie with Chaol and Nesryn convincing its rulers to ally with them.

But what they discover in Antica will change them both—and be more vital to saving Erilea than they could have imagined...
