These Colors Don't Run

A Celebration of Those Who Have Served

Edited by Mary Zaia

A patriotic look at our men and women in uniform, from World War II to the present

A beautiful, photographic tribute to the men and women in our armed services, from the boys who stormed the beach at Normandy in World War II to the Special Forces who took out Osama bin Laden to the everyday troops who do their jobs with uncommon strength and grace. With inspirational quotes that celebrate the enduring values of the American military—loyalty, duty, respect, honor, integrity, and courage—along with the people who choose country over self day after day, and who truly make America great.

MARY ZAIA is a political writer, loving mother to four rambunctious boys, and cooking enthusiast. She currently resides in Bergenfield, New Jersey.
