Deal with the Devil

A Mercenary Librarians Novel

Kit Rocha

Orphan Black meets the post-apocalyptic Avengers by USA Today and New York Times bestselling author duo Kit Rocha

Nina is an information broker with a mission—she and her team of mercenary librarians use their knowledge to save the hopeless in a crumbling America.

Knox is the bitter, battle-weary captain of the Silver Devils. His squad of supersoldiers went AWOL to avoid slaughtering innocents, and now he's fighting to survive.

They're on a deadly collision course, and the passion that flares between them only makes it more dangerous. They could burn down the world, destroying each other in the process...

Or they could do the impossible: team up.

A Murderbot Novel

Martha Wells

"We are all Murderbot." – NPR

The New York Times and USA Today bestselling Murderbot series exploded onto the scene in 2017, and the world has not been the same, since. A quarter of a million copies later, Murderbot is back in its highly-anticipated, first, full-length standalone novel.

You know that feeling when you're at work, and you've had enough of people, and then the boss walks in with yet another job that needs to be done right this second or the world will end, but all you want to do is go home and binge your favorite shows? And you're a sentient murder machine programmed for destruction? Congratulations, you're Murderbot.

Come for the pew-pew space battles, stay for the most relatable A.I. you'll read this century.

I'm usually alone in my head, and that's where 90 plus percent of my problems are.

When Murderbot's human associates (not friends, never friends) are captured and another not-friend from its past requires urgent assistance, Murderbot must choose between inertia and drastic action.

Drastic action it is, then.

PRAISE

Praise for The Murderbot Diaries

"The Murderbot series is a heart-pounding thriller that never lets up, but it's also one of the most humane portraits of a nonhuman I've ever read."—Annalee Newitz

"I love Murderbot!"—Ann Leckie

"Endearing, funny, action-packed, and murderous."—Kameron Hurley

MARTHA WELLS has written many fantasy novels, including The Wizard Hunters, Wheel of the Infinite, the Books of the Rakshasa series (beginning with The Cloud Roads and ending with The Harbors of the Sun), and the Nebula-nominated The Death of the Necromancer, as well as YA fantasy novels, short stories, and nonfiction. Her New York Times and USA Today-bestselling Murderbot Diaries series has won the Hugo, Nebula, Locus, and Alex Awards.

Trouble the Saints

Alaya Dawn Johnson

A dangerous, dazzling story of New York City and the exchange of power—think HBO's Boardwalk Empire, with the fantastical allure of The Night Circus, as written by James Baldwin.

The dangerous magic of The Night Circus meets the powerful historical exploration of The Underground Railroad in this timely and unsettling novel, set against the darkly glamorous backdrop of New York City at the dawn of WWII.

Amidst the whirl of city life, a girl from Harlem is drawn into the glittering underworld of Manhattan, where she's hired to use her knives to strike fear amongst its most dangerous denizens.

But the ghosts from her past are always by her side—and history has appeared on her doorstep to threaten the people she loves most.

Can one woman ever sacrifice enough to save an entire community?

Trouble the Saints is a dazzling, daring novel—a magical love story, a compelling chronicle of interracial tension, and an altogether brilliant and deeply American saga.

PRAISE

Praise for Alaya Dawn Johnson

“There’s a great, fresh audacity to Johnson’s YA debut.”—Entertainment Weekly on *Love is the Drug

“One of the most distinctive YA novels of the season.”—Wired on *Love is the Drug

ALAYA DAWN JOHNSON has been recognized for her short fiction and YA novels, winning the 2015 Nebula Award for Best Novelette for “A Guide to the Fruits of Hawai’i,” which also appears in The Best American Science Fiction and Fantasy (2015), guest edited by Joe Hill. Her debut YA novel, The Summer Prince (Arthur A. Levine, 2013), was longlisted for the National Book Award. Her follow up YA novel, Love is the Drug, won the Andre Norton Award in 2015. She is currently based in Mexico City, though...

Magic for Liars

A Novel

Sarah Gailey

This debut novel from Hugo Award-winner Sarah Gailey combines the mainstream fantasy appeal of The Magicians with the twists of Tana French's investigative noir series

Two Enigmatic Sisters

A Brilliant, Terrifying Secret

A Perfect Lie

Ivy Gamble was born without magic and never wanted it.

Ivy Gamble has an almost-sustainable career as a private investigator, and an empty apartment, and a slight drinking problem. She doesn't in any way wish she was like Tabitha, her estranged, magically gifted twin sister.

Ivy Gamble is a liar.

A darkly enchanting debut novel from the award-winning Sarah Gailey, perfect for fans of Charlie Jane Anders and Megan Abbott, following the harrowing search for a killer at a private academy for mages hidden in modern-day Northern California.

PRAISE

A Fire Upon The Deep

Vernor Vinge

Now in a new trade paperback edition for the Tor Essentials line, A Fire Upon the Deep is sure to bring a new generation of SF fans to Vinge's award-winning works.

Thousands of years in the future, many races inhabit a universe where a mind's potential is determined by its location in space, from superintelligent entities in the Transcend, to the limited minds of the Unthinking Depths, where only simple creatures and technology can function. Nobody knows what strange force partitioned space into these "regions of thought," but when the warring Staumli realm use an ancient Transcendent artifact as a weapon, they unwittingly unleash an awesome power that destroys thousands of worlds and enslaves all natural and artificial intelligence.

Fleeing the threat, a family of scientists, including two children, are taken captive by the Tines, an alien race with a harsh medieval culture, and used as pawns in a ruthless power struggle. A rescue mission, not entirely composed of humans, must rescue the children—as well as a secret that may save the rest of interstellar civilization.

PRAISE

"Fiercely original . . . Compelling ideas include the problems and advantages of group mind, galactic communication turbidity, and the prospect of civilization aspiring to godhood."—Stewart Brand, founder of the *Whole Earth Catalog

"The author has created a rarity—a unique blend of hard science, high drama, and superb storytelling." —*Library Journal

"Vernor Vinge's best novel yet." —Greg Bear, author of *Moving Mars

"Vast, riveting, far-future saga. . . A masterpiece of universe building." —*Kirkus Reviews

"Vinge is one of the best visionary writers of SF today." —*David Brin, author of Earth

Vernor Vinge won five Hugo Award, two of them for the Zones of Thought series: A Fire Upon the Deep and A Deepness in the Sky. Known for his rigorous hard-science approach to science fiction, he became an iconic figure among cybernetic scientists with the publication in 1981 of his novella, "True Names," which is considered a seminal, visionary work of Internet fiction. His many books also include Marooned in Realtime, Rainbow's End, and The Peace War.

Gideon the Ninth

Tamsyn Muir

Tamsyn Muir's necromantic science fantasy debut Gideon the Ninth is the most fun you'll ever have with a skeleton

"Unlike anything I've ever read." —V.E. Schwab

"Lesbian necromancers explore a haunted gothic palace in space!"
—Charles Stross

Starred reviews from Publishers Weekly, Kirkus, Library Journal, BookPage, and *Booklist

The Emperor needs necromancers.

The Ninth Necromancer needs a swordswoman.

Gideon has a sword, some dirty magazines, and no more time for undead bullshit.

Tamsyn Muir's Gideon the Ninth unveils a solar system of swordplay, cut-throat politics, and lesbian necromancers. Her characters leap off the page, as skillfully animated as arcane revenants. The result is a heart-pounding epic science fantasy.

PRAISE

"Deft, tense and atmospheric, compellingly immersive and wildly original." —*The New York Times

"With a snorting laugh and two middle fingers, the whole thing burns end-to-end. It is deep when you expect shallow, raucous when you expect dignity and, in the end, absolutely heartbreaking when you least expect it." —NPR

"This crackling, inventive and riotous book from an original voice is a genuine pleasure. Also the author is clearly insane." —Warren Ellis

"Warm and cold; goofy and gleaming; campy and epic; a profane Daria in space." —Robin Sloan

TAMSYN MUIR is a horror, fantasy and sci-fi author whose short fiction has been nominated for the Nebula Award, the Shirley Jackson Award, the World Fantasy Award and the Eugie Foster Memorial Award. A Kiwi, she has spent most of her life in Howick, New Zealand, with time living in Waiuku and central Wellington. She currently lives and works in Oxford, in the United Kingdom. Gideon the Ninth is her first novel.

Uranus

Ben Bova

Ben Bova continues his exploration of the future of a human-settled Solar System with the science fiction action adventure Uranus, the first of his Outer Planets trilogy.

On a privately financed orbital habitat above the planet Uranus, political idealism conflicts with pragmatic, and illegal, methods of financing. Add a scientist who has funding to launch a probe deep into Uranus's ocean depths to search for signs of life, and you have a three-way struggle for control.

Kyle Umber, a religious idealist, has built Haven, a sanctuary above the distant planet Uranus. He invites "the tired, the sick, the poor" of Earth to his orbital retreat where men and women can find spiritual peace and refuge.

The billionaire financier of Haven, however, has his own designs: beyond the reach of the laws of the inner planets Haven could become the center for an interplanetary web of narcotics, prostitution, even hunting human prey.

Meanwhile a scientist with funding from the Inner Planets drops remote probes into the "oceans" of Uranus, in search of life. He brings money and prestige, but he also brings journalists and government oversight to Haven. And they can't have that.

PRAISE

Automatic Reload

A Novel

Ferrett Steinmetz

Ferrett Steinmetz's quirky, genre-mashing cyberpunk romance, Automatic Reload: a high-octane adventure about a grizzled mercenary who unexpectedly falls in love with a bio-engineered assassin

In the near-future, automation is king, and Mat is the top mercenary working the black market. He's your soldier's soldier, with military-grade weapons instead of arms—and a haunted past that keeps him awake at night. On a mission that promises the biggest score of his life, he discovers that the top secret shipment he's been sent to guard is not a package, but a person: Silvia.

Silvia is genetically-altered to be the deadliest woman on the planet—her only weakness is her panic disorder. When Mat decides to free her, both of them become targets of the most powerful shadow organization in the world. They go on the lam, determined to stop a sinister plot to create more super assassins like Silvia. Between bloody gunfights, rampant car chases and drone attacks, Mat and Silvia team up to survive...and unexpectedly realize their messed up brain-chemistry cannot overpower their very real chemistry.

Automatic Reload is the genre's most unexpectedly heartfelt romantic comedy with explosions, perfect for fans of Die Hard and Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

Harrow the Ninth

Tamsyn Muir

Lesbian necromancers return to space in the hotly-anticipated sequel to *Gideon the Ninth

“Unlike anything I’ve ever read. Muir’s writing is as sharp as a broken tooth, and just as unsettling.” —V.E. Schwab on *Gideon the Ninth

“Warm and cold; goofy and gleaming; campy and epic; a profane Daria in space.” —Robin Sloan on *Gideon the Ninth

She answered the Emperor's call.

She arrived with her arts, her wits, and her only friend.

In victory, her world has turned to ash.

After rocking the cosmos with her deathly debut, Tamsyn Muir continues the story of the penumbral Ninth House in Harrow the Ninth, a mind-twisting puzzle box of mystery, murder, magic, and mayhem. Nothing is as it seems in the halls of the Emperor, and the fate of the galaxy rests on one woman's shoulders. Harrowhark's health is failing, her magic refuses to cooperate, her sword makes her throw up, and even her mind threatens to betray her. What's worse, someone is trying to kill her. And she has to wonder: if they succeeded, would the universe be better off?

The Living Dead

George A. Romero and Daniel Kraus

New York Times bestselling author Daniel Kraus (The Shape of Water) completes the brand new zombie novel by George A. Romero, director of the classic *Night of the Living Dead

George A. Romero invented the modern zombie in his seminal film, Night of the Living Dead. Without Romero, there would be no World War Z, no The Walking Dead. When he died in 2017, Romero's giant, contemporary zombie novel was unfinished. Completed by New York Times bestselling author Daniel Kraus (The Shape of Water) with the full cooperation of the Romero estate, The Living Dead is an entirely new tale. Not a novelization of any of the films, it is the story of the zombie plague, from the first rising to the fall of humankind...and beyond.

It begins with one body.

A pair of medical examiners find themselves battling a dead man who won't stay dead.

It spreads quickly.

In a Midwestern trailer park, an African American teenage girl and a Muslim immigrant battle newly-risen friends and family. On a US aircraft carrier, living sailors hide from dead ones while a fanatic makes a new religion out of death. At a cable news station, a surviving anchor keeps broadcasting while his undead colleagues try to devour him. In DC, an autistic federal employee charts the outbreak, preserving data for a future that may never come.

Everywhere, people are targeted by both the living and the dead.

We think we know how this story ends.

We. Are. Wrong.

PRAISE

GEORGE A. ROMERO's classic zombie movie cycle begins with Night of the Living Dead. He also directed Creepshow and created the TV series Tales From the Darkside. Romero died in 2017 after a fifty-year career in film.

DANIEL KRAUS co-wrote the New York Times bestseller, The Shape of Water, with Guillermo del Toro. Kraus's novel The Death and Life of Zebulon Finch was an Entertainment Weekly Top Ten Book of the Year; Rotters was a finalist for the Bram Stoker Award.

By Force Alone

Lavie Tidhar

A retelling of Arthurian myth for the age of Brexit and Trump, from World Fantasy Award-winner Lavie Tidhar.

Everyone thinks they know the story of King Arthur and his knights of the Round Table.

They fact is they know only lies.

Arthur is no romantic hero.

Merlin is no paternal sage.

And a sword is just a sword, until it runs you through.

A savage and cutting epic fantasy, equally poetic and profane, BY FORCE ALONE is at once a timely political satire, a magical adventure, and a subversive masterwork.

The Redemption of Time

A Three-Body Problem Novel

Baoshu, Translated by Ken Liu

A new chapter in the New York Times bestselling Three-Body Problem saga, from a rising star in Chinese science fiction.

At the end of the fourth year of the Crisis Era, Yun Tianming, riddled with cancer, chose to end his life. His decision was the first step in a journey that would take him to the end of the universe and beyond.

His brain was extracted from his body, flash frozen, put aboard a spacecraft, and launched on a trajectory that will intercept the Trisolarian First Fleet in a few centuries. It is a desperate plan, almost certain to fail. But there is an infinitesimal chance that one day Tianming may, somehow, be able to send valuable information back to Earth. And so he does. His broadcasts from the Trisolarian fleet reveal the secrets of faster than light propulsion and the ultimate defence of black domains.

This is Tianming's story. It reveals what happened to him when he was intercepted by the Trisolarians. It reveals the true nature of the struggle that has created the universal 'dark forest', and the ultimate fate of the Universe...

The Tyrant Baru Cormorant

Seth Dickinson

The third book in Seth Dickinson's epic fantasy series which began with the "literally breathtaking" (NPR), *The Traitor Baru Cormorant

The hunt is over. After fifteen years of lies and sacrifice, Baru Cormorant has the power to destroy the Imperial Republic of Falcrest that she pretends to serve. The secret society called the Cancrith is real, and Baru is among them.

But the Cancrith's weapon cannot distinguish the guilty from the innocent. If it escapes quarantine, the ancient hemorrhagic plague called the Kettling will kill hundreds of millions...not just in Falcrest, but all across the world. History will end in a black bloodstain.

Is that justice? Is this really what Tain Hu hoped for when she sacrificed herself?

Baru's enemies close in from all sides. Baru's own mind teeters on the edge of madness or shattering revelation. Now she must choose between genocidal revenge and a far more difficult path — a conspiracy of judges, kings, spies and immortals, puppeteering the world's riches and two great wars in a gambit for the ultimate prize.

If Baru had absolute power over the Imperial Republic, she could force Falcrest to abandon its colonies and make right its crimes.

K. A. Doore

The final volume in K. A. Doore's critically-acclaimed assassin fantasy trilogy, praised by Publishers Weekly as "a hit with fans of Sarah J. Maas and George R.R. Martin" (starred review)

Seven years have passed since the Siege — a time when the hungry dead had risen — but the memories still haunt Illi Basbowen. Though she was trained to be an elite assassin, now the Basbowen clan act as Ghadid's militia force protecting the resurrected city against a growing tide of monstrous guul that travel across the dunes.

Illi's worst fears are confirmed when General Barca arrives, bearing news that her fledgling nation, Hathage, also faces this mounting danger. In her search for the source of the guul, the general exposes a catastrophic secret hidden on the outskirts of Ghadid.

To protect her city and the realm, Illi must travel to Harthage and confront her inner demons in order to defeat a greater one — but how much can she sacrifice to protect everything she knows from devastation?

Glorious

Gregory Benford and Larry Niven

The long-awaited, third book in the series which began with Bowl of Heaven and Shipstar, from SF masters Gregory Benford and Larry Niven

Glory is a continuation of humanity's first major attempt to explore a distant star system, in the journey that began with Bowl of Heaven and Shipstar. Audacious astronauts encounter bizarre, sometimes deadly life forms, and strange, exotic, cosmic phenomena, including miniature black holes, dense fields of interstellar plasma, powerful gravity-emitters, and spectacularly massive space-based, alien-built labyrinths. The alien civilization is far more advanced than our own, and difficult for our astronauts to comprehend. The astronauts must explore and document this brave, new, highly dangerous world, while also dealing with their own personal triumphs and conflicts—their loves and jealousies, joys and disappointments.

PRAISE

Praise for Bowl of Heaven:

“What would you expect when two of the all-time greatest hard science fiction writers collaborate on a novel? Nothing less than this masterful, mind-expanding book. I am in awe.”

—Robert J. Sawyer, Hugo Award-winning author of Triggers

“The first installment of what will be the biggest sci-fi saga since--well, since ever.”

—The Wall Street Journal

“If you like hard SF with mind-stretching ideas--both physical and psychological--then you definitely want to read this book.”

—Analog

GREGORY BENFORD is a recipient of the United Nations Medal for Literature, and the author of more than twenty novels, including the Nebula Award-winning Timescape. He teaches physics at the University of California.

LARRY NIVEN is the award-winning author of the Ringworld series, along with many other SFF masterpieces. He has received the Nebula Award, five Hugos, four Locus Awards, two Ditmars, the Prometheus, and the Robert A. Heinlein Award, among other honors.

Katherine Addison, author of The Goblin Emperor, returns with a fantasy novel of alternate 1880s London, where killers stalk the night and the ultimate power is naming.

This is not the story you think it is. These are not the characters you think they are. This is not the book you are expecting.

In an alternate 1880s London, angels inhabit every public building, and vampires and werewolves walk the streets with human beings under a well-regulated truce. A fantastic utopia, except for a few things: Angels can Fall, and that Fall is like a nuclear bomb in both the physical and metaphysical worlds. And human beings remain human, with all their kindness and greed and passions and murderous intent.

Jack the Ripper stalks the streets of this London too. But this London has an Angel. The Angel of the Crows.

The Order of the Pure Moon Reflected in Water

Zen Cho

A rollicking update on the classic Chinese bandit fantasy by award-winning author Zen Cho

"Fantastic, defiant, utterly brilliant." —Ken Liu

Zen Cho returns with a found family wuxia fantasy that combines the vibrancy of old school martial arts movies with characters drawn from the margins of history.

A bandit walks into a coffeehouse, and it all goes downhill from there. Guet Imm, a young votary of the Order of the Pure Moon, joins up with an eclectic group of thieves (whether they like it or not) in order to protect a sacred object, and finds herself in a far more complicated situation than she could have ever imagined.

Interlibrary Loan

Gene Wolfe

Interlibrary Loan* is Gene Wolfe's final work of fiction, a brilliant follow-up to *A Borrowed Man

Hundreds of years in the future our civilization is shrunk down but we go on. There is advanced technology, there are robots.

And there are clones.

E. A. Smithe is a borrowed person, his personality an uploaded recording of a deceased mystery writer. Smithe is a piece of property, not a legal human.

As such, Smithe can be loaned to other branches. Which he is. Along with two fellow reclones, a cookbook and romance writer, they are shipped to Polly's Cove, where Smithe meets a little girl who wants to save her mother, a father who is dead but perhaps not.

And another E.A. Smithe... who definitely is.

PRAISE

For Gene Wolfe

"If any writer from within genre fiction ever merited the designation Great Author, it is surely Wolfe . . . [who] reads like Dickens, Proust, Kipling, Chesterton, Borges, and Nabokov rolled into one."—*The Washington Post Book World

"One of the literary giants of science fiction."—*The Denver Post

"Gene Wolfe is as good a writer as there is today...I feel a little bit like a musical contemporary attempting to tell people what's good about Mozart."—*The Chicago Sun-Times

GENE WOLFE (1931-2019) was a winner of the World Fantasy Award for Life Achievement, as well as the Nebula Award (2), the World Fantasy Award (3-most recently for Soldier of Sidon), the John W. Campbell Memorial Award, the British Fantasy Award, and the Prix Apollo. In 2007, he was inducted into the Science Fiction Hall of Fame. In 2013, he received the SFWA Grand Master Award.

Turning Darkness Into Light

Marie Brennan

A standalone fantasy novel featuring the granddaughter of Lady Isabella Trent from Marie Brennan's award-winning and beloved *A Natural History of Dragons

As the renowned granddaughter of Isabella Camherst (the Lady Trent, notorious memoirist of Draconic adventures) Audrey Camherst has always known that she, too, would want to make her scholarly mark upon a chosen field of study.

When Audrey is recruited to decipher a series of ancient tablets holding the secrets of the ancient Draconeian civilization, she has no idea that her research will plunge her into an intricate conspiracy, one meant to incite rebellions and invoke war. Alongside dearest childhood friend and fellow archaeologist Kudshayn, she must find proof of the conspiracy before it's too late.

PRaise

"[Has] a wry wit that refuses to accept the standard notions of any era—past, present, or future."—Locus on The Memoirs of Lady Trent series

"Astounding adventures, blending Victorian pastiche and alternate-world fantasy."—NPR on *The Voyage of the Basilisk

"Fans of Naomi Novik and Mary Robinette Kowal will especially enjoy this book."—RT Book Reviews on *A Natural History of Dragons

"Smart and nuanced...Overwhelmingly fun and a perfectly delightful read."—io9 on *The Tropic of Serpents

MARIE BRENNAN habitually pillages her background in anthropology, archaeology, and folklore for fictional purposes. She is the author of the Onyx Court series, the Doppelgänger duology of Warrior and Witch, and the urban fantasy Lies and Prophecy, as well as more than thirty short stories. The first book in the Lady Trent Memoirs series, A Natural History of Dragons, was nominated for a World Fantasy Award for Best Novel, and the entire series has been nominated for a Hugo. ## The Sin in the Steel

Ryan Van Loan

A sparkling debut fantasy set in a diverse world, featuring dead gods, a pirate queen, shapeshifting mages, and a Sherlockian teenager determined to upend her society.

Buc and Eld: She's a brilliant former street-rat, with a mind that leaps from clues to conclusions in the blink of an eye. He's an ex-soldier, her champion and partner-in-crime. No...not in crime—in crime-solving.

In this fast-paced, action-driven, second world fantasy, the teenager and the veteran are the Holmes and Watson of a world where pirates roam the seas, mechanical engines can change the tide of battle, mages speak to each other across oceans, and earthly wealth is concentrated in the hands of a powerful few.

The Kanados Trading Company hires Buc and Eld to restore the flow of sugar—a source of power and wealth in Venice-like Servenza—from the Shattered Coast. Buc swiftly discovers that the trade routes have become the domain of a sharp-eyed pirate queen. All Buc has to do now is sink the Widowmaker's ship.

Unfortunately for Buc, the gods have other plans.

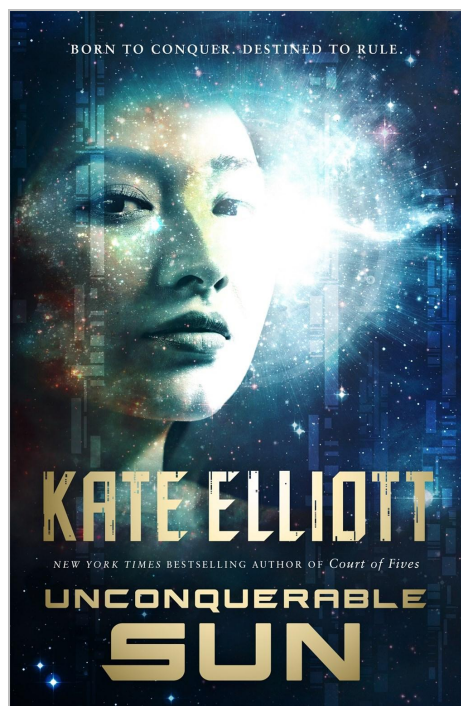

Unfortunately for them, so does Buc.

PRAISE

"Van Loan's Buc is a brilliant rogue with a complicated past. Buc's companion at arms, Eld, is a veteran whose inner wounds still need to heal. Together with mages and merchants, they pursue an ancient artifact that could be the answer to everything, or the end of it. A blisteringly paced, amazingly fun and thoughtful read!"—Fran Wilde, Nebula Award-winning author of The Bone Universe trilogy

RYAN VAN LOAN served six years in the US Army Infantry, on the front lines of Afghanistan. He now works in healthcare innovation. The Sin in the Steel is his debut novel. Van Loan and his wife live in Pennsylvania.

Unconquerable Sun

Kate Elliott

New York Times bestselling author Kate Elliott brings us a thrilling new SF adventure set in a rich universe full of political intrigue and inspired by Alexander the Great

The far-future landscape of an intergalactic empire is at risk; damaged by years of rebellion and annexation, as well as the massively competitive rotating courts vying for fortune at the feet of the fierce but capricious Queen Eirene.

Eirene's heir, Sun, is one of those fearsome and tenacious voices—after leading a triumphant siege in recent battle, the Princess is ready to take on more responsibility and adopt the mantle of her heritage.

But a plot from untrustworthy shadow-courts threatens to unseat Sun as Eirene's heir, and Sun's own ambitions and dislike for her mother's new bride lead to her having to escape the court before she is made to disappear.

Now on the run with her cadre of close friends, one enemy-turned-ally, and an intriguing prisoner of war, Princess Sun boards the ship Busephelous and throws herself into uncovering espionage and triumphing in the face of all who doubt her—including her own mother.

The Relentless Moon

A Lady Astronaut Novel

Mary Robinette Kowal

The sequel to the Nebula-Award winning The Calculating Stars and *The Fated Sky

The Earth is coming to the boiling point as the climate disaster of the Meteor strike becomes more and more clear, but the political situation is already overheated. Riots and sabotage plague the space program. The IAC's goal of getting as many people as possible off Earth before it becomes uninhabitable is being threatened.

Elma York is on her way to Mars, but the Moon colony is still being established. Her friend and fellow Lady Astronaut Nicole Wargin is thrilled to be one of those pioneer settlers, using her considerable flight and political skills to keep the program on track. But she is less happy that her husband, the Governor of Kansas, is considering a run for President.

Flyaway

Kathleen Jennings

Transformation, enchantment, and the emotional truths of family history teem in Kathleen Jennings' stunning debut, Flyaway.

"A fairytale wrapped about in riddles and other thorny bits of enchantments and stories, but none of them quite like any you've heard before."—Kelly Link

In a small Western Queensland town, a reserved young woman receives a note from one of her vanished brothers—a note that makes question her memories of their disappearance and her father's departure.

A beguiling story that proves that gothic delights and uncanny family horror can live—and even thrive—under a burning sun, Flyaway introduces readers to Bettina Scott, whose search for the truth throws her into tales of eerie dogs, vanished schools, cursed monsters, and enchanted bottles.

The Name of All Things

Jenn Lyons

For fans of Brandon Sanderson and Patrick Rothfuss, The Name of All Things is the second installment in Jenn Lyons' Chorus of Dragons series that began with The Ruin of Kings.

You can have everything you want if you sacrifice everything you believe.

Kihrin D'Mon is a wanted man.

Since he destroyed the Stone of Shackles and set demons free across Quur, he has been on the run from the wrath of an entire empire. His attempt to escape brings him into the path of Janel Theranon, a mysterious Joratese woman who claims to know Kihrin.

Janel's plea for help pits Kihrin against all manner of dangers: a secret rebellion, a dragon capable of destroying an entire city, and Kihrin's old enemy, the wizard Relos Var.

Janel believes that Relos Var possesses one of the most powerful artifacts in the world—the Cornerstone called the Name of All Things. And if Janel is right, then there may be nothing in the world that can stop Relos Var from getting what he wants.

And what he wants is Kihrin D'Mon.

Or What You Will

Jo Walton

From the Hugo, Nebula, and World Fantasy Award-winning author of Among Others, an utterly original novel about how stories are brought forth.

He has been too many things to count. He has been a dragon with a boy on his back. He has been a scholar, a warrior, a lover, and a thief. He has been dream and dreamer. He has been a god.

But “he” is in fact nothing more than a spark of idea, a character in the mind of Sylvia Harrison, 73, award-winning author of thirty novels over forty years. He has played a part in most of those novels, and in the recesses of her mind, Sylvia has conversed with him for years.

But Sylvia won't live forever, any more than any human does. And he's trapped inside her cave of bone, her hollow of skull. When she dies, so will he.

Now Sylvia is starting a new novel, a fantasy for adult readers, set in Thalia, the Florence-resembling imaginary city that was the setting for a successful YA trilogy she published decades before. Of course he's got a part in it. But he also has a notion. He thinks he knows how he and Sylvia can step off the wheel of mortality altogether. All he has to do is convince her.

PRAISE

“Rendered with Walton's usual power and beauty...It's this haunting character complexity that ultimately holds the reader captive to the tale.”—N. K. Jemisin, The New York Times, on *My Real Children

“Has as much in common with an Alice Munro story as it does with, say, Philip K. Dick's The Man in the High Castle.”—Lev Grossman, Publishers Weekly, on *My Real Children

“Funny, acute, and impassioned.”—Ursula K. Le Guin on *Among Others

JO WALTON won the Hugo and Nebula Awards in 2012 for her novel Among Others. Before that, she won the John W. Campbell Award for Best New Writer, and her novel Tooth and Claw won the World Fantasy Award in 2004. The novels of her Small Change sequence—Farthing, Ha'penny, and Half a Crown—have won acclaim ranging from national newspapers to the Romantic Times Critics' Choice Award. A native of Wales, she lives in Montreal.

The thrilling finale to Myke Cole's Sacred Throne trilogy

Heloise and her allies are marching on the Imperial Capital. The villagers, the Kipti, and the Red Lords are united only in their loyalty to Heloise, though dissenting voices are many and they are loud.

The unstable alliance faces internal conflicts and external strife, yet they're united in their common goal. But when the first of the devils start pouring through a rent in the veil between worlds, Heloise must strike a bargain with an unlikely ally, or doom her people to death and her world to ruin.

The final title in the lush new Celtic fantasy series from the critically acclaimed author of the Pendragon Cycle

Conor mac Ardan is now clan chief of the Darini.

Tara's Hill has become a haven and refuge for all those who were made homeless by the barbarian Scálda.

A large fleet of the Scálda's Black Ships has now arrived and Conor joins Eirlandia's lords to defeat the monsters. He finds treachery in their midst...and a betrayal that is blood deep.

And so begins a final battle to win the soul of a nation.

PRAISE

"Fierce companions, mighty foes, and fae magic all intertwine with multiple points of view in an exciting tale."—Booklist on In the Region of the Summer Stars

"Lawhead brilliantly creates an authentic and vivid Arthurian Britain, and never forsakes a sense of wonder."—Publishers Weekly on Pendragon

"Lawhead demonstrates a genuine love for and understanding of Anglo-Celtic mythology."—Library Journal on The Paradise War

STEPHEN R. LAWHEAD is the internationally renowned author of the bestselling Pendragon Cycle, which received critical acclaim for its creative retelling of the Arthur legend and its historical credibility. In addition to that series, he is the author of more than 28 novels and numerous children's and nonfiction books of fantasy and imaginative fiction, including the award-winning Song of Albion trilogy. Lawhead makes his home in Oxford, England, with his wife, Alice.

Knives Over Queens

A Wild Cards novel

George R. R. Martin

In George R. R. Martin's latest Wild Cards adventure, we visit our superpowered friends across the pond as they start an investigation against jokers in London

Developed by aliens and field-tested on Earth, the virus known as Xenovirus Takis-A was released in New York in 1946, changing the course of human history forever. Now the virus has reached Britain. There, Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill, gifted with extraordinary longevity, together with the Enigma ace Alan Turing, set up a special organization named the Order of the Silver Helix. They will need all of the wild cards they can find if they are to deal with the terrifying mutations spawned by the virus.

Edited by #1 New York Times bestselling author George R. R. Martin and Melinda M. Snodgrass, Knives Over Queens features the writing talents of Paul Cornell, Marko Kloos, Mark Lawrence, Kevin Andrew Murphy, Emma Newman, Peter Newman, Peadar O Guilin, Melinda M. Snodgrass, Caroline Spector, and Charles Stross.

Now in development for TV: Rights to develop Wild Cards have been acquired by Universal Cable Productions, the team behind The Magicians and Mr. Robot, with the co-editor of Wild Cards, Melinda Snodgrass, as executive producer.

Fate of the Fallen

Kel Kade

A brand-new, genre-bending series from New York Times bestselling author, Kel Kade

The start of a brand new adventure from New York Times bestselling author of the King's Dark Tidings series, Kel Kade.

Not all stories have happy endings.

Everyone loves Mathias. Naturally, when he discovers it's his destiny to save the world, he dives in head first, pulling his best friend Aaslo along for the ride.

However, saving the world isn't as easy, or exciting, as it sounds in the stories. The going gets rough and folks start to believe their best chance for survival is to surrender to the forces of evil, which isn't how the prophecy goes. At all. As the list of allies grows thin, and the friends find themselves staring death in the face they must decide how to become the heroes they were destined to be or, failing that, how to survive.

KELKADE lives in Texas and occasionally serves as an adjunct college faculty member, inspiring young minds and introducing them to the fascinating and very real world of geosciences.

Quantum Shadows

L. E. Modesitt, Jr.

Reminiscent of Book of the New Sun, Modesitt's Quantum Shadows blends science and fantasy in an adventure that pits old gods and new against one another in a far future world.

On a world called Heaven, the ten major religions of mankind each have their own land governed by a capital city and ruled by a Hegemon. That Hegemon may be a god, or a prophet of a god. Smaller religions have their own towns or villages of belief.

Corvyn, known as the Shadow of the Raven, contains the collective memory of humanity's Falls from Grace. With this knowledge comes enormous power.

When unknown power burns a mysterious black image into the holy place of each House of the Decalivre, Corvyn must discover what entity could possibly have that much power. The stakes are nothing less than another Fall, and if he doesn't stop it, mankind will not rise from the ashes.

PRAISE

Inch by Inch

Book Two Step by Step

Morgan Llywelyn

Inch By Inch* continues the near-future, science fiction thriller trilogy Step by Step from bestselling author Morgan Llywelyn

Morgan Llywelyn continues her near-future, apocalyptic thriller trilogy with her signature depth and intimacy of character. In Inch by Inch, book two in the trilogy, the residents of Sycamore River have only just adjusted to the end of the Change. Until the morning people notice that metal starts to behave oddly.

It's rotting.

The world is pushed into global war, and the small band of Sycamore River survivors only have one another. They have to survive the unthinkable.

Llywelyn blends her signature character-driven portrait of small-town life with the appeal of William Fortschen's One Second After.

PRAISE

"Ms. Llywelyn's command of language is exquisite."—SFRevu on Only the Stones Survive

"Her prose is by turns reflective, lyrical, and stalwart."—Publishers Weekly

MORGAN LLYWELYN is the New York Times bestselling author of Lion of Ireland. She has won numerous awards for her historical fiction. She lives near Dublin, Ireland.

Mythago Wood

Robert Holdstock

Now in a Tor Essentials edition, one of the true fantasy classics of our time.

The mystery of Ryhope Wood, Britain's last fragment of primeval forest, consumed George Huxley's entire, and long, life. Now, after his death, his sons have taken up his work. But what they discover is beyond what they could have expected. For the Wood is a realm where myths gain flesh and blood, tapping primal fears and desires subdued through the millennia. A realm where love and beauty haunt your dreams—and may drive you insane.

Mythago Wood won the World Fantasy Award on its first publication in 1984, and secured Robert Holdstock's reputation as one of the major fantasy writers of our time.

PRAISE

“A classic of the literature of fantasy . . . Ryhope Wood [is], like so many other people and things, bigger and strangers and much more alive and dangerous the further you go.”—Neil Gaiman

“One of the defining fantasy novels of the last 50 years . . . A writer whose work matches the power of J.R.R. Tolkien, without being either a copy or a simple reaction.”—*The Guardian

“A powerful and profound work of creation which I believe will be read, not merely in the present, but in a hundred years' time.”—Brian Aldiss

“Utterly enthralling.”—*Times Literary Supplement

ROBERT HOLDSTOCK (1948-2009) was widely regarded as one of the greatest fantasists of his time. Mythago Wood (1984), the novel that made his reputation, won the World Fantasy and BSFA Awards. Among its several sequels, Lavondyss (1988) won the BFSFA Award. His interest in Celtic and Nordic mythology was prominently reflected in his acclaimed Merlin Codex trilogy, consisting of Celtika, The Iron Grail, and The Broken Kings, published between 2001 and 2007.

The Memory of Souls

Jenn Lyons

For fans of Brandon Sanderson and Patrick Rothfuss, The Memory of Souls is the third epic fantasy in Jenn Lyons' Chorus of Dragons series that began with The Ruin of Kings.

What if you're the one who has to die?

The unthinkable has happened and Quur is in more danger than ever. Now Kihrin, along with Teraeth, Janel, and Thurvishar, have been tasked by the gods themselves to travel down to the Manol Jungle to ensure King Kelanis—Kihrin's usurper uncle—performs the Ritual of Night to seal away the darkness. But will Kelanis do the right thing when it will cost the vané their immortality and when no one who performs the ritual survives it?

Worse, Kihrin must come to terms with the horrifying possibility that his connection to Vol Karoth is very real and steadily growing. How can Kihrin hope to save anyone when he might turn out to be the greatest threat of them all?

A Chorus of Fire

Brian D. Anderson

The second book in a new epic fantasy trilogy from successful self-published author, perfect for fans of the Wheel of Time and Sword of Truth.

A shadow has moved across Lamoria. Whispers of the coming conflict are growing louder; the enemy becoming bolder. Belkar's reach has extended far into the heart of Ralmarstad and war now seems inevitable.

Mariyah, clinging to the hope of one day being reunited with Lem, struggles to attain the power she will need to make the world safe again. But a power like this is not easily acquired and will test the limits of her mind and body. She will need to look deep inside herself to find the strength to achieve what even the Thaumases of old could not.

Lem continues his descent into darkness, serving a man he does not trust in the name of a faith which is not his own. Only Shemi keeps his heart from succumbing to despair, along with the knowledge that he has finally found Mariyah. But Lem is convinced she is being held against her will, and compelled to do the bidding of her captors. He is determined to free her, regardless the cost.

Their separate roads are leading them to the same destination. And once they arrive they will have to confront more than the power of Belkar. They will have to face themselves and what Lamoria has forced them to become.

BRIAN D. ANDERSON is the author of bestselling, self-published series, The Godling Chronicles and Dragonvein. He lives in Fairhope, Alabama, with his wife and son.

Son of the Shadows

Book Two of the Sevenwaters Trilogy

Juliet Marillier

The beautiful, moving sequel to Juliet Marillier's award-winning historical fantasy Daughter of the Forest

Son of the Shadows is the sequel to Juliet Marillier's evocative first novel, Daughter of the Forest. It continues the saga of beautiful Sorcha, the courageous young woman who risked all to save her family from a wicked curse, and whose love shattered generations of hate and bridged two cultures.

By her sacrifice, her brothers were brought home to Sevenwaters. But not all her brothers were able to escape the spell that transformed them into swans, and those who did were more—and less—than they were before the change.

Now Sorcha's daughter Liadan takes up the tale that the Sevenwaters clan is destined to fulfill. Beloved child and dutiful daughter, she embarks on a journey that opens her eyes to the wonders of the world around her—and shows her just how hard-won was the peace that she has known all her life.

She will need all of her courage to help save her family, for there are forces far darker than anyone could have guessed, and ancient powers conspiring to destroy the clan's peace—and their world. And she will need all of her strength to stand up to those she loves best, for in the finding of her own true love, Liadan may doom them all or be their salvation.

PRAISE

For Daughter of the Forest

“Sterling characterizations, perfect pacing, appropriately marvelous fairy subplots, and vivid descriptive passages make for a flawless launching of a fantasy trilogy.”
—Booklist, starred review

“Marillier is a fine folklorist and a gifted narrator who has created a wholly appealing and powerful character.”—Publishers Weekly

“The author’s keen understanding of Celtic and early Irish Christianity adds texture to a rich and vibrant novel.”—Library Journal

JULIET MARILLIER achieved international recognition with the publication of the first two award-winning novels in the Sevenwaters Trilogy, a historical fantasy set in Ireland and Britain in the ninth century, and loosely based on the fairy tale “The Six Swans.” Her other historical fantasy series include the Viking-inspired Light Isles duology and the Bridei Chronicles, set in north Britain in the time of the Picts.

Book 3 of The Risen Kingdoms

Curtis Craddock

The Three Musketeers* meets Jules Verne in Curtis Craddock's concluding novel in this critically-acclaimed high fantasy Risen Kingdoms series, an engrossing tale of courtly intrigue and breathtaki...

Isabelle and Jean-Claude undertake an airship expedition to recover a fabled treasure and claim a hitherto undiscovered craton for l'Empire Celeste. But Isabelle, as a result from a previous attack that tried to subsume her, body and soul, suffers from increasingly disturbing and disruptive hallucinations. Disasters are compounded when the ship is sabotaged by an enemy agent, and Jean-Claude is separated from the expedition.

In a race against time, Isabelle must figure out how to ward off her ailment before it destroys her and reunite with Jean-Claude to seek the fabled treasure as ancient secrets and a royal conspiracy threaten to undo the entire realm.

Luna: Moon Rising

Ian McDonald

The continuing saga of the Moon's Five Dragons, already under option from CBS, a fast-paced, intricately plotted space opera pitched as Game of Thrones meets *The Expanse

A hundred years in the future, a war wages between the Five Dragons—five families who control the Moon's leading industrial companies. Each clan does everything in their power to claw their way to the top of the food chain—marriages of convenience, corporate espionage, kidnapping, and mass assassinations.

Through ingenious political manipulation and sheer force of will, Lucas Cortas rises from the ashes of corporate defeat and seizes control of the Moon. The only person who can stop him is a brilliant lunar lawyer, his sister, Ariel.

Witness the Dragons' final battle for absolute sovereignty in Ian McDonald's heart-stopping finale to the Luna trilogy.

The Baron of Magister Valley

Steven Brust

From the vaults of Dragaeran history and the mind of master fantasist Steven Brust, a tale of betrayal and vengeance that is not at all a retelling of *The Count of Monte Cristo

Reader, you will undoubtedly have had the misfortune of consuming the rotten fruit of fallacies that we—Paarfi of Roundwood (esteemed historian of House of Hawk and exquisite artisan of truths)—“borrow” our factual recount of Dragaeran history from some obscure fellow who goes by the name Al Dumas or some silly nomenclature of that nature.

The salacious claims that The Baron of Magister Valley bears any resemblance to a certain nearly fictional narrative about an infamous count are unfounded (we do not dabble in tall tales. The occasional moderately stretched? Yes. But never tall).

Our tale is that of a nobleman who is betrayed by those he trusted, and subsequently imprisoned. After centuries of confinement, he contrives to escape and prepares to avenge himself against his betrayers.

A mirror image of The Count of Monte Cristo, vitrolic naysayers still grouse? Well, that is nearly and utterly false.

PRAISE

“Surprisingly resonant...another solid entry in the series.” —Romantic Times Book Review, 4 stars, on *Vallista

“Brust is one of those natural caper writers, a pulp writer in the Hammett tradition, someone with what William Gibson calls ‘wheels on his tractor’.... A writer who can spin a yarn that keeps you guessing until the end.” —Cory Doctorow on *Hawk

“Wonderful...Like most of Brust’s books, this witty, wry tale stands alone and is very accessible to new readers.” —Publishers Weekly on *Tiassa

STEVEN BRUST is the author of Dragon, Issola, the New York Times bestsellers Dzur and Tiassa, and many other fantasy novels. He lives in Minneapolis.

Architects of Memory

Karen Osborne

Karen Osborne debuts with a lightning-fast, science fiction action and adventure combining the corporate greed of The Expanse with the underdog characters of Firefly.

Terminally ill salvage pilot Ash Jackson lost everything in the war with the alien Vai, but she'll be damned if she loses her future. Her plan: to buy, beg, or lie her way out of corporate indenture and find a cure.

When she and her crewmates salvage a genocidal weapon from a ravaged starship above a dead colony, Ash uncovers a conspiracy of corporate intrigue and betrayal that threatens to turn her into a living weapon.

PRAISE

"Exciting, scary, fun, smart. sad, and moving all at the same time. You need this book in your life."—Sam J. Miller, Nebula Award-winning author of The Art of Starving and *Blackfish City

"A thrilling labyrinth of plot twists exploring loyalty, trust, and promises."—Sue Burke, Arthur C. Clarke Award finalist and author of *Semiosis

"Far-future corporate dystopia plus deep-space mystery plus powerful character drama. For fans of Firefly, Killjoys, and The Wrong Stars."—Michael R. Underwood, author of *Annihilation Aria

KAREN OSBORNE is a speculative fiction writer and visual storyteller from Baltimore. She is a graduate of Viable Paradise and the Clarion Writers' Workshop, and won awards for her news & opinion writing in New York, Florida, and Maryland. Her short fiction appears in Escape Pod and is forthcoming in Beneath Ceaseless Skies. Architects of Memory is her debut sf novel.

Breath by Breath

Book Three Step by Step

Morgan Llywelyn

Breath by Breath* is the explosive conclusion to the near-future, science fiction thriller trilogy Step by Step from the bestselling author Morgan Llywelyn

Morgan Llywelyn concludes her near-future, apocalyptic thriller trilogy with her signature depth and intimacy of character. In Breath by Breath, book three in the trilogy, the residents of Sycamore River emerge from nuclear war caused by the Change and its effects on technology. As they try to rebuild their shattered lives, they discover the Change continues.

For some, the air has become lethally toxic.

The small band of Sycamore River townfolk only have to survived the unthinkable, but will they survive the last of the Change.

Llywelyn blends her signature character-driven portrait of small-town life with the appeal of William Fortschen's One Second After.

PRAISE

"Ms. Llywelyn's command of language is exquisite."—SFRevu on Only the Stones Survive

"Her prose is by turns reflective, lyrical, and stalwart."—Publishers Weekly

MORGAN LLYWELYN is the New York Times bestselling author of Lion of Ireland. She has won numerous awards for her historical fiction. She lives near Dublin, Ireland.
